Amendments to the Defence of Canada regulations has made it a punishable offence for civilians to assist or conceal members of the Armed Forces who have deserted or absented themselves without leave. Last week-end the family of your editor moved over to Bassano, and resided in the Recorder building. Three of the children are students. Each one of them were presented with a beautiful as well as valuable gift from the teachers and classmates. The gifts were given out in connection with a hearty merry fair-weather party. This attitude of the teachers and pupils is fully recognized by your editor. We take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Gem school and the staff.

THIS WEEK'S POEM

Lit at best is very brief,
Like the falling of a leaf.
Like the fading of a dream.

Be in time.

Fleeting days are telling fast
That the die will soon be cast.
And the final line be read.

Be in time.

Faint flowers soon decay,
Youth and beauty pass away,
And we have not long to stay.

Be in time.

While God's Spirit bids you come,
Sinner, do not longer be alone,
Lest you seal your hopeless doom.

Be in time.

Time is passing swiftly by,
Dead and judgment draweth nigh,
To the arms of Jesus fly.

Be in time.

Oh, I pray you, count the cost,
Ere the final line be crossed,
And your soul in hell be lost.

Be in time.

Sinner, heed the warning voice,
Make the Lord your final choice,
That all heaven will rejoice.

Be in time.

Come from darkness into light,
Come, let Jesus make you right,
Come and start for heaven tonight.

Be in time.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

"A promise once given is a bond invaluable."

Back in Canada again! William Sackville, with the Saskatchewan Light Infantry in Italy, whose home is in Toronto, Ontario, smiles over the lucky break of being home again even though home is a bed in the Christie Street Military Hospital, and not in his own home. Bill was badly wounded in the leg in action during the early stages of the Italian campaign. He was taken to

Mid Week Thought FOR BUSY PEOPLE

RAVENS of light cut monotonously across the sky. Pools and flooded cuts threw back the light. Newark Airport was damp; passengers waiting to embark shivered. Motors drummed, rose and fell, purred and then gave voice to a powerful roar. From the field had soared, not many hours before a sleek airplane carrying a merry passenger list, a pilot who had just said an easy goodbye to his wife, and a hostess who a reputation for chuckling at life and making others feel her senility. The gifts were given out in connection with a hearty merry fair-weather party. This attitude of the teachers and pupils is fully recognized by your editor. We take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Gem school and the staff.

And not so long afterward, to the same field had come the word the plane had crashed, all aboard were dead. The thirteen liner had cracked up in a night when the sky too was muddy. Thirteen souls gone into Eternity, but where? Heaven or hell?

Yet, the airport might have been a busy railroad station with the red flag. A plane of scheduled, white and blue was the master, a well-oiled part of a big business industry. There were no words or acts that told of sudden death in the hills or of a fatal break in the schedule. It seemed just another night.

In the waiting rooms, well turned out women waited for their ships. Lamented women walked into the lights. Conversational fragments spoke of Florida, the mountains.

There were no echoes of tragedy in the room. Well-dressed men fringed about. Occasionally there was a chuckle. An official voice announced that there were no announcements. Persons exchanged cheerful, women read or chatted. There were no echoes of tragedy.

Only outside where motors drummed, giant ships wheeled around in the sense of danger, or a hint that tragedy might be in the air. Waiting passengers, pilots, stewards, all were casual. The 11:45 was going out for Pittsburgh. It was almost just another night at the New Jersey Airport of Newark.

Tragedy effuses comes Suddenly, but its warning voice is soon forlorn. God speaks in death, but how dull is the hearing when God speaks. The world is swift to forget—forget the tragedies, forget the SIN, forget God. But dear reader! God does not forget, no, no, God cannot forget. Die without Jesus, Christ is your personal Saviour and you die in your sins, to stand before God's judgment to answer for your sins and the rejecting of Jesus Christ in whom is preached the forgiveness of sins.

hospital in North Africa and knows how important transfusion with dried blood serum can be. The doctor's son, a Canadian, had been killed but for blood serum. It helped build up my strength. One of the purposes of the current Red Cross campaign is to provide funds to continue Blood Donor services throughout Canada.

Know the words of God—"And as it is updated unto men once to die but after this the judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). Dear reader, how knowest thou that thou shalt not die?—there you must stand and render up your account—there you must be filled with overwhelming shame and terror—there you must bear the awful final sentence, which will be your doom irreversibly, unless by repentance and by faith in Jesus Christ as your Saviour, you flee from the wrath and judgment to come on all who have obeyed not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

When the morning sun casts the shadows of the sleeping volcano across the fair plains of Sicily and over the beautiful fields and lovely landscapes, the people do not seek of which cause the shadow. It suggests to them the awful terrors that hover in the mountain, and that any hour may break in fearful destruction. So the people try to forget the ominous terror. They go on tending their gardens, building their houses, tilling their fields, laughing and singing, trying to forget the terrors that slumber in the air above their heads. But does forgetfulness of it shelter them from the awful peril that lies away in the quiet volcano?

Reader, are you trying to forget God and His judgment as these people who live beneath the volcano? Are you trying to forget the danger? Do not comfort yourself with a false peace and a false hope. In Christ, alone is peace with God and shelter from the coming judgment and wrath. Verily, I say unto you, he that heareth My word and believeth on Him that sent Me, hath everlasting life and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5:24). "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (John 3:36).

Apply NOW for your New Gasoline Licenses and Ration Coupon Books

On March 31, the present gasoline licenses and ration coupon books will expire. After that date no gasoline will be sold except on the presentation of a 1944-45 ration book.

In his own interests, every vehicle owner is asked to apply at once for a new license and ration coupon book for each of his vehicles. Application forms must be completed in detail.

Commencing April 1, under the 1944-45 rationing plan, the operation of which will be basically the same as that now in effect, all non-commercial vehicle owners will again be allowed a basic "AA" gasoline license and ration coupon book, containing 40 units for a passenger car, or 16 for a motorcycle.

Similarly, owners of vehicles eligible for a "Special" category, who can prove their need, will be granted an extra vocational allowance, fixed in advance for the year ending March 31, 1945. In determining the extra allowance—which will be measured to individual needs—the previous category and mileage of the car will not necessarily be an important consideration.

The extra vocational coupons will again be issued in books labelled "Special", and each book will contain not more than 60 units. To permit constant review of the needs of each category applicant, only one "Special" book, or portion thereof, will be issued at a time. The Oil Controller also has the right to refuse any application for a "Special" category, or to suspend any ration coupon book for an infraction of the regulations.

The shortage of gasoline is still acute. Do not apply for a "Special" category unless your need is urgent.

Gasoline for commercial vehicles will again be rationed. To assure themselves sufficient gasoline to carry on normal business activities after March 31, operators of commercial vehicles are urged to complete at once and in detail the required application for each of their vehicles.

On and after April 1, service station attendants will not accept gasoline ration coupons unless the license plate number of the motor vehicle for which they were issued is written in ink on each coupon. Every motor vehicle must also display on its windshield a 1944-45 sticker indicating the category of the coupon book submitted at the time of the purchase.

If the owner of a motor vehicle sells, transfers or disposes of it in any way, it is his obligation to see that the gasoline license and ration coupon book for that vehicle is returned immediately to the nearest Regional Oil Control Office.

To obtain a gasoline license and ration coupon book, secure an application form at your nearest Post Office. Study the form and follow carefully the instructions contained therein.

When you receive your 1944-45 gasoline ration book, guard it carefully. Do not leave it in your car. If, because of your negligence, it is lost or stolen, it may not be replaced.
